

Renowned Meditation Teacher

KHANDRO THRINLAY CHODON

Sydney Visit October 26 – November 13, 2017

Khandro Thrinlay Chodon, is a female practitioner and teacher of Vajrayana Buddhism. Khandro Rinpoche holds a Masters Degree in East-West Psychology (USA), and skilfully imparts her ancient lineage's wisdom in a refreshingly personal, profound yet practical way, that emphasizes integration of spiritual activity in daily life.

Born and trained in one of the most respected yogic meditation family lineages of the Himalayas, Khandro Rinpoche began her spiritual training as a small child in the lap of her father, the renowned Apho Rinpoche. She studied under the guidance of Gegen Khyentse, her mother Sangyum Urygen Chodon and other authentic yogis. Her great-grandfather, Togden Shakya Shri, who began as a cook in a monastery, was legendary for actualising the essence of both the Dzogchen and Mahamudra view. This Shakya Shri tradition is valued for its extensive and pure practice.

Khandro Rinpoche is the embodiment of warmth and humanness and her teachings skilfully inspire us to deepen our awareness and courageously expand into the path of wisdom, joy and compassion. Khandro Rinpoche now leads an international spiritual and humanitarian organisation, called "Khachodling". For more details about Khandro Rinpoche and her Khachodling work see www.khachodling.org
